

From the Publishers

These word search puzzles provide inspiration and wholesome activity for old and young alike. They will be useful in schoolrooms, rest homes, Sunday schools, or other group settings. For those wishing to use only selected puzzles for an occasional activity, such as reinforcing a Bible lesson or providing variety in a class, limited copying is permitted. This does not permit copying for sale or distribution, nor does this permission apply to other CLP publications unless specifically stated therein.

Children who have problems with reversals or are unestablished in left-to-right reading progression should not search for words in reverse order.

Directions for Solving Word Search Puzzles

Words may read forward, backward, diagonally, or up and down. Letters may be used more than once. Some words cross each other. Circle the word when you find it, then check it off the word list.

Each line in the word list is an entry. There may be more than one word in an entry. The answers will be found in the back of the book beginning on page 91.

We hope you enjoy these puzzles. You may even be able to memorize some of the verses. The verses are presented in the same order they are found in the Bible.
